INTERNATIONAL SCIENTIFIC COUNSELLING COMMITTEE

The International Scientific Counselling Committee has been set up to hold the Conferences and Seminars of the Chair. Its function is to collaborate in the elaboration of the programmes for the Conferences and Seminars, both in the selection of issues and speakers as well as in the dissemination of its results. In this manner, the aim is to integrate the activities of the Chair to external specialists who provide their knowledge and experience in order to continue improving in its established guidelines. The members who already are part of this committee come from European countries (Spain, Germany, Belgium, France, Italy, Netherlands, United Kingdom), from Latin American countries (Argentina, Brasil, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Mexico, Uruguay), from North American countries (Canada), from Australia as well as from members of international organisations (European Union).
